Miami, Fla. – As Miami Dade voters begin heading to the polls this week, local elected officials and businesses announce a townhall press conference on Wednesday, August 17 at 10:30 a.m. ET, to emphasize their support for Amendment 4 on the August primary ballot. This event is open to the public and questions about Amendment 4 will be answered.

Millions of vote-by-mail ballots have been sent around the state, and are already being turned in. Early voting, which starts today in Miami Dade, has historically accounted for up to 20% of total voter turnout.

If approved by voters this month, Amendment 4 will help Floridians save money by reducing the tax burden that currently exists for solar. Encouraging more solar energy development will allow Floridians to lock in energy savings, create jobs, spur economic development and bring much-needed diversity to the state’s energy mix.

WHEN: Wednesday, August 17, 2016, 10:30, a.m. ET

WHERE: Miami City Hall, 3500 Pan American Drive, Miami, FL

SPEAKERS:
George Cavros - Southern Alliance for Clean Energy, moderator
Miami Mayor Regalado – City of Miami
Raul Vergara - Cutler Bay Solar Solutions
Representative Jose Javier Rodriguez – District 112
Representative from Miami Dade Green Corridor
Bill Lyon -SunConnect
